Dear Lt. Col. O'Denius:

In January, 1991, U.S. Army 2LT George W. Maschke was assigned to the FBI Washington Metropolitan Field Office (WMFO) and remained here for the duration of "Desert Storm". His assignment was to provide Arabic language translation support to the FBI's counterterrorism and foreign counterintelligence mission.

During his stay at WMFO, 2LT Maschke quickly learned how to perform his job in a competent and skillful manner. He provided excellent summaries of translations, consistently including valuable insight and analysis.

Special Agents as well as other language specialists who worked with 2LT Maschke had praise for his work. During the war, he volunteered to work many extra hours. He is an excellent linguist and a talented, energetic, dedicated professional who was a true asset to the FBI's counterterrorism program.

Sincerely,

Thomas E. DuHadway
Special Agent in Charge
